ENVIRONMENTAL TIPS

#88

Today, try walking, cycling or using public transport

Every year, this initiative is celebrated internationally. The day aims to help us imagine how our lives and cities would be without combustion engine vehicles, through only using sustainable transport.

It is currently held in 2,141 cities in 46 countries.

Around 70% of greenhouse gas emissions are concentrated in big cities.

Project co-financed by the European
Regional Development Fund

The Port Authority of Valencia and the Valenciaport Foundation, collaborate in SUMPORT's project, which aims to improve sustainable movement and encourage care for the environment and innovation in the port sector.

With this goal in mind, an initiative has been launched for Port of Valencia workers to share cars.
