

16 SEPTEMBER

World Ozone Layer Preservation Day

The Ozone layer is one of the most important elements for our survival. This part of the stratosphere protects us from 99% of the ultraviolet radiation emitted by the Sun.

September 2022

In 2021, in order to control the air quality targets established in the GreenCPorts Project, the PAV acquired two inmission cabins and three weather stations.

The results obtained show compliance with all the air quality inmission thresholds.
